

PDG Jennifer Scott

Jennifer lives in the Blue Mountains, NSW.

Jennifer has practiced as a lawyer since 1981 and since retiring has focused on providing facilitation and dispute resolution services to private and government organizations. She also provides training and coaching for organizations including Resolution Institute, Sydney Graduate School of Management, UTS, Chambers of Commerce, small to medium businesses, and voluntary organizations.

Jennifer is involved in several not-for-profit organisations and charities. She is the Chair of Varuna, the National Writers' House, and is on the board of Sustainable Cambodia. Together with her husband, Ian, Jennifer has led teams of project volunteers to Pursat in Cambodia, and a Vocational Training Team to Mongolia upskilling judges and social workers in family mediation and conflict management skills.

A member of the Rotary Club of Central Blue Mountains, Jennifer served as Governor in 2007-08. She has been an International Assembly Training Leader and Seminar Trainer and is currently the International Assembly Moderator for RIPE Jennifer Jones

She has recently been appointed by PRPN Gordon McInally as the chair for the 2024 International Convention in Singapore. Jennifer has been a member of the Hamburg Convention Committee, RI Election Review committee, and the RI Leadership Development and Training Committee. She is currently a vice chair of the End Polio Now: Countdown to History Campaign Committee, a member of the RI Constitution and By-law committee, and a Technical Coordinator for the Environment AOF.

Jennifer has been awarded the Rotary Foundation's Citation for Meritorious Service. She and Ian are major donors, and bequest society members.